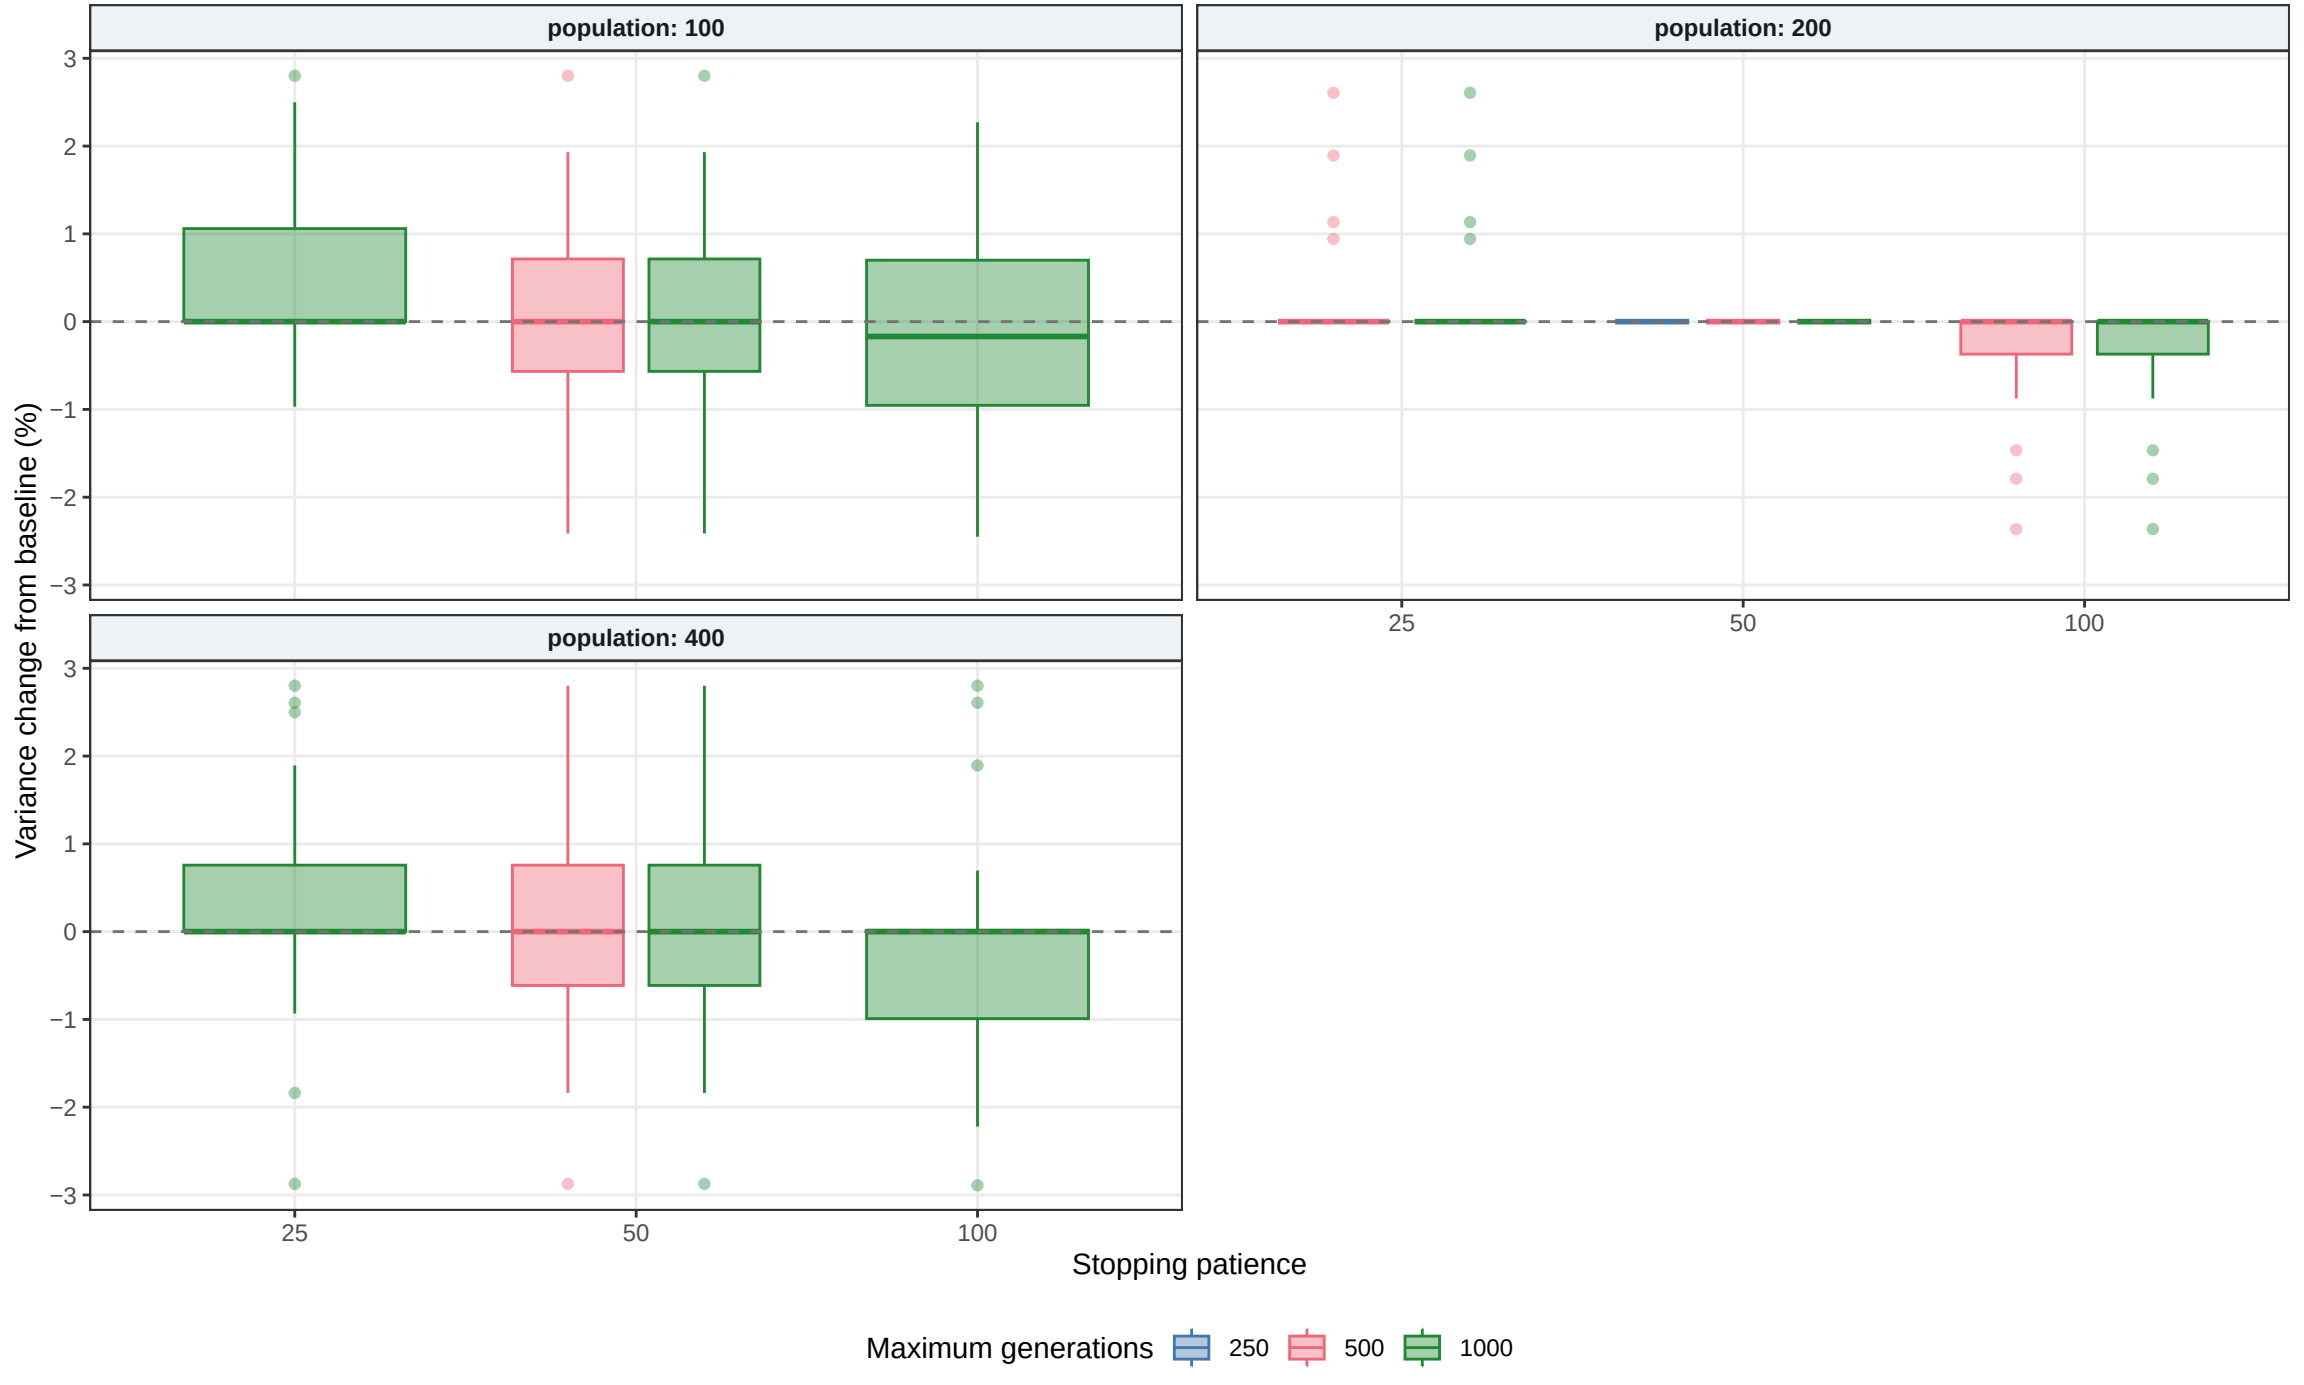
Paired comparison with baseline.

Negative values favour the configuration; feasible pairs only



Absent groups represent untested combinations.