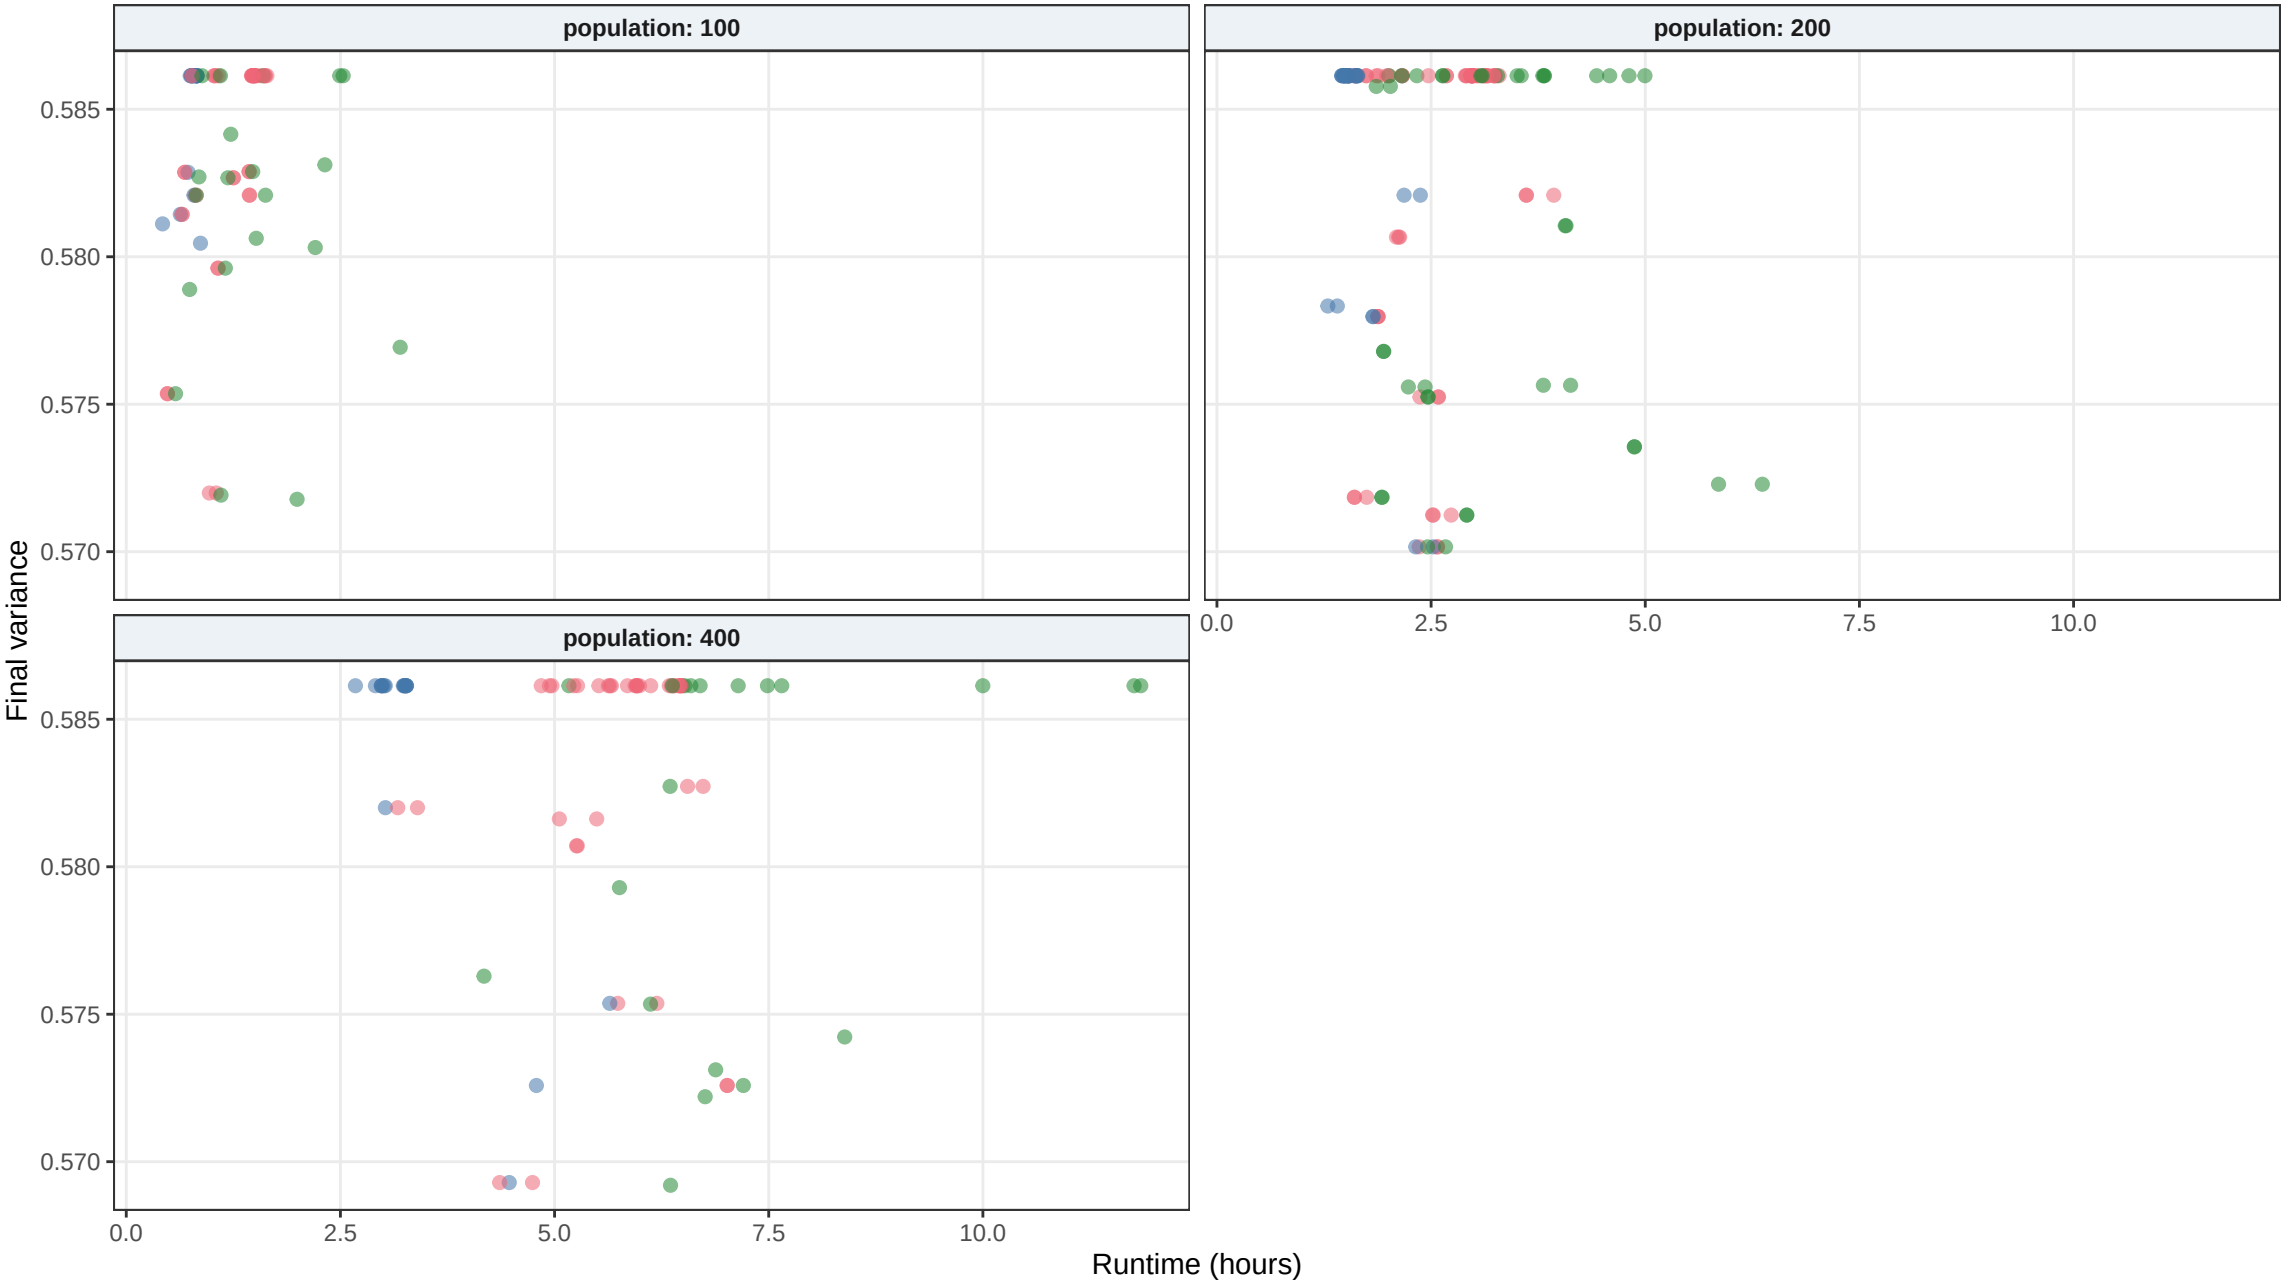
Runtime versus final variance by population size.

Each point represents one feasible GA run.



All tested generation limits are included; overlapping runs may coincide.